Clinical Trial Registration

The Annals requires clinical trials to be registered in a public registry before consideration for publication. Those who are uncertain whether their trial meets the ICMJE definition should err on the side of registration if they wish to seek publication. If researchers or others have questions about the need to register a specific study, they should err on the side of registration or consult with their institutional review board.

Please refer to the registry that you choose to register in, for instructions about the registration process for that specific registry, e.g. <https://www.clinicaltrials.gov>

When reporting a clinical trial, authors should ensure that its Data Sharing policy complies with requirements from respective institutional review boards and medical councils, and funding agencies.

Is your study a clinical trial? Yes / No

If yes, please outline registry and number: _____
